

Dale's Bio:

As a business, and communication coach for over 20 years, Dale has worked with thousands of business owners, executives and their teams in a wide variety of industries; helping them to improve their focus, their culture, and their business outcomes.

He founded The Communication Gym in 2005, with the mission to improve people's quality of life by improving the quality of their communication. To date, TCG has taught over 10,000 thousand people how to communicate with clarity, confidence, courage, and integrity. The Communication Gym's unique approach to training ensures that our members develop and utilize skills that have meaningful impact; improving business outcomes, team culture, sales results, and personal relationships.

Dale has also served as the Chief Learning Officer for a national staffing company with over 42 locations and 10,000 employees nationwide.